

PHOTOS BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

EYES ON LONDON

It's finally here. After seven long years, the preparations are finally over, and the time to watch people have some fun has begun. Welcome to the 2012 Olympic Games.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT

- China's Feng Zhe trains on the vault during a practice session on Wednesday.
- The horse Oregon De La Vigine, with French rider Denis Mesples aboard, sports a head cover with a skull during a training session at Greenwich Park on Wednesday.
- A diver plunges into the pool during a practice session at the Aquatics Center at the Olympic Park on Thursday.
- Swimmer Laure Manaudou of France spits out water during a practice session on Wednesday.
- A gymnast from China practices during a training session on Wednesday.
- British skier Amelia Hempelman-Adams poses with the Olympic flame on top of a London Eye pod that lies on the torch relay leg through London on July 22.
- Dancers perform during a ceremony to welcome athletes from Syria at the Olympic Village on Wednesday.